

From obs: "3 small storm slabs observed on steep terrain of Bridger Ridge (E aspect observed from wolverine woods) Attached is a photo of the deepest likely ~12in crown. No observed wind slab development below 8100ft. No propagating test results in pits dug Lower ramp, and wolverine woods." Photo: L. Butler

Avalanche Details: Small storm slabs Bridger Ridge No Region, 2025-02-18